AN EDUCATIONAL CENTER
Bay St. Louis is rapidly coming to be called an educational center. With the new institutions of learning, expanding in all branches of industry, progress is being made in the most important work. There is in the center of education the most important of all the work of the state. This is at St. Stanislaus College. The education is liberal and with an 18-ft. building, modern equipment makes it perfect.

ADVERTISING AND DEVELOPING THE GULF COAST.

People of Biloxi and vicinity are anticipating the largest winter tourist season in the history of the town. Earlier in the year, under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce, a fund of several thousand dollars was raised by popular subscription, merchants and other business people contributing, and, in a measure, that assured the accomplishment of the purpose, to advertise Biloxi as a winter resort in Northern, Eastern and Middle West newspapers.

Display advertisements were placed with the press, and soon a deluge of letters from inquirers resulted. The advertising, costing only a few thousand dollars, was, in a measure, an experiment. But every advertisement told a story of the Gulf Coast. And there are thousands who are seeking such story. This winter, as a result, promises to be the most successful one from many angles for Biloxi and vicinity. Hotels will be taxed, but are amply equipped to entertain the influx.

In this connection, it is not worthy that two large hotels are in progress of construction, the "Alvarez," a five-story ornamental structure in the very heart of Biloxi's "center of things," and the "Hiena Vista," tourist hotel de luxe and to be one of the largest and most modern on the Coast. The first is financed by local capitalists and the latter principally owned by Col. Apperson, owner of the "Riviera."

The years are not many and the time not distant when the Mississippi Gulf Coast will outrival California as a resort for winter tourists, and compete keenly with Florida. The Mississippi Gulf Coast will come into its own when its resources and advantages will have been advertised and developed. Nature has lavished its gifts. Man's work has just begun. Let us hasten the day for that consummation devoutly to be wished for.

THE HIGH PRICE FOR MOVIES.

Patrons of the movies in smaller cities the size of Bay St. Louis complain about the high price charged for admission to the movies, and too often attribute the charge to the local management. The howl is not confined to any one community, but seems general. In fact, so much so it has lead to investigation. Prices remain high because production is high. The cry for cheaper pictures, if heeded, might lead to disaster. Will the public be satisfied with "cheap" pictures?

Where pictures were formerly produced at an initial cost of $2,000, now requires $10,000. One picture, now in course of production, to cost $2,000,000. A producer told the writer in California this summer a certain picture was costing him comparatively little money; that its cost would not be in excess of $120,000!

The motion picture editor of the New York Evening World has investigated the cost of producing big pictures. He says that salaries are at the bottom of the high prices at the box window. Here is a list of some of the weekly salaries:

J. Warren Kerrigan, $1500; Milton Sills, $2500; Lewis Stone, $2500; Rockliffe Fellowes, $1000; Richard Dix, $1250; Jack Holt, $1500; Conrad Nagle, $1250; Tom Mix, $4000; Lan Chaney, $2500; Conway Tearle, $2750; James Kirkwood, $2500; Noah Berry, $1500; Mary Astor, $750; Lila Lee, $1500; Betty Compson, $3500; Gloria Swanson, $6500; Barbara La Marr, $3500; Patsy Ruth Miller, $1500; Hope Hampton, $1000; Kenneth Harlan, $1000; House Peters, $2500; Florence Vidor, $1500; George Walsh, $1500; Mabel Normand, $2000; Elliott Dexter, $2000; Priscilla Dean, $3000; Norma Talmadge, $10,000; Constance Talmadge, $5000; Pauline Fredeyck, $6000; Dorothy Dalton, $7500; Richard Barthelmess, $3000 (and share of profits); Lillian Gish, $5000; Mae Marsh, $1500; Betty Blythe, $2,000; Walter Long, $1500.

Read the answer in the "stars." Is it any wonder that, with salaries like these, out of all reason, there is a tendency to push up the prices the public are asked to pay for its film entertainment?

This, in a measure, answers largely the reason for the high cost of admission to the movies. The trouble is not with the movie house or the ticket office.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS' COMMENDABLE SPIRIT.

Hancock county's Board of Supervisors, in regular session this week, appropriated the sum of five hundred dollars to the King's Daughters' Hospital at Gulfport. This is commendable and in keeping with that splendid spirit of the Board which has ever characterized its every act. The King's Daughters' Hospital serves Hancock county without reserve at all times and its able aid beneficiaries have frequently been felt by our people.

If you're looking for a sure way to make a woman and you want to do it in a way that makes mud-bathes home.

SHOW YOUR LOYALTY.

Residents of Bay St. Louis have reached the season when they will have an excellent opportunity to demonstrate their loyalty to their home town. By this we mean the approach of the holiday season, and the unusual number of tempting offers that are going to come to them by way of mail order publications and through the ads in the big daily papers.

Then, too, there are still a few who yet believe that a gift to be appreciated must come from a "big town." And they never made a worse mistake. Do you imagine that the person to whom you are going to make a gift wants you to be disloyal enough to take the money you spend for it out of the town wherein you made that money, the town you depend upon for a living at Christmas time the same as you do all the balance of the year? Do you suppose that the men who run the mail order houses are going to buy presents for their families here in your town? Look at it in a sensible light, and ask yourself if it is really a true Christmas spirit to take your trade during the holidays to people who will never be present to wish you a "Merry Christmas" and who don't care a rap whether you do or not so long as you answer their tempting offers and send or carry your money to them.

Possibly the stocks carried here are not as gigantic as in the big city stores—you're not so hard to satisfy but you can find something to meet your requirements, to satisfy the person to whom you wish to present a gift. And, too, if you will show your home merchants the ad from the mail order house or the big city paper they will get the same thing for you, and at just as reasonable a figure. They'll be here to wish you a "Merry Christmas"—and to help you and yours out if you get to a point where you need help, as some of us often do. Take all these things into consideration, and then ask yourself if you are really starting in to make Christmas happy for yourself and your neighbors if you do your Christmas buying out of town.

CHANGING THE CALENDAR.

Should the calendar be changed so we'd have 13 months of 28 days apiece, with a "leap day" at the end of each year? Don't throw up your hands and say it's foolish, for some pretty learned men have been figuring it out, men who have devoted far more study to such a proposition than anyone around here, and they declare that there is merit in such a proposal. In fact, there is an organization known as the International Fixed Calendar League, with hundreds of members scattered all over the world, and they are advocating the change to a 13-month year with 28 days in each month. The only drawback is that their calendar would have a Friday the 13th in each one of the twelve months, and nine-tenths of the people are too superstitious to take kindly to such an epidemic of thirteens. But outside this there wouldn't be so very much to complain about. If the month started on Sunday, every Sunday in a month would be the 1st, 8th, 15th and 22nd. Other week days would also be the same date each month. But we don't know what we'd do with the odd day in each year, unless we'd use it as a holiday for wondering why we didn't let the calendar alone in the first place.

COOLIDGE'S HOME CITY ELECTS A DEMOCRATIC MAYOR.

Northampton, Mass., Dec. 5.—The home city of President Coolidge yesterday elected as mayor Edward J. Woodhouse, Democrat. He defeated William Cordes, Republican, by 70 votes. The Republicans made gains in the City Council and the Board of Aldermen.

MAIL CHRISTMAS PACKAGES EARLY.

Co-operation in mailing Christmas gifts is being sought by the Postoffice Department. Here are the suggestions of Third Assistant Postmaster General Glover.

Mail Christmas packages early.

Prepay postage fully on all matter.

Address all matter plainly and completely, giving street address whenever possible.

Place sender's name and address in upper left corner of address side.

Place articles carefully in strong, durable containers.

Wrap parcels securely, but do not seal them, except when bearing a printed label or endorsement reading: "Contents, Merchandise; fourth class mail."

Postmaster: This parcel may be opened for postal inspection if needed; it is sealed parcels not as labeled or endorsed are subject to postage at the letter rate.

Parcels may be marked "Do not open until Christmas."

Insure valuable parcels. Do not include letters with parcels, as doing so would subject entire parcels to letter postage.

Written greetings, such as "Merry Christmas," "Happy New Year," "With Best Wishes," and names, numbers or symbols for the purpose of description may be included with fourth-class (parcel post) mail.

ECHOES FROM ST. STANISLAUS

With S. S. C. Collegians in Class Room and on Campus.

(Note: The editors of this week's Echo write about the St. Stanislaus High School, which has been decided to make this week a "Flea Week." They beg the question: What names might be used not to be offended, but to take it all in the spirit that it is written, "For fun and nothing else but fun.")

An Artistic Bug.
Schezenynder, while scratching his head one day, was asked if he had "bugs." Little Schex, grew very indignant and answered that he had arithmetical bugs.

"Why, what are they?" asked Bayou, always anxious to learn something new.
"Well," replied Schex, assuming an important air, "they are bugs that add to my misery, subtract from my pleasures, divide my attentions and multiply like the mischief."

FAIR WARNING TO A LOVE-SICK BOY.
A little moonlight now and then Marries off the best of men.

Fish in the ocean.
Fish in the sea, Hair waves and Zerk nets Made a fish out of me.

Ferocious!!!
"Now I've got you in my grip!" hissed the villain, Brooks, showing his tooth paste into his valise.

Wonder What Rudy Would Say?
Country—Man, you know something, the show surely was crowded last night.

Long Boy—It always is.
Country—Yes, I know; but last night it was so crowded that when it was time to show Rudy Vaseline in "The Four Racers of the Apoplexy" they had to bring the horses in one by one.

Might Need a Bicycle Pump.
(By Big Zerk.)
Bayou went to a store uptown and purchased a pound of nails.

"Anything else," asked the clerk as he wrapped the package. "A bicycle would help you out considerably, I'm sure, sir."

"No," answered Bayou thoughtfully, "I'd rather put the money in a cow."
"But," persisted the clerk, "imagine how funny you would look riding on a cow."

"Oh, not so funny," answered Bayou stroking his chin. "Not much more foolish, I guess, than I would milking a bicycle."

Mid-Night Love.
All the food in the world must be happy at last, for Charlie Jarbert has decided to let food take its course and has deserted it for love. We must admit at present we are unable to name the lucky one, but I'll tell the world he must be a "hum-dinger" to take the place of Mid-night's food. Well, they will get the best of the best of us sometimes, won't they?

Watch Out, Doc!
A certain young doctor better beware of the TWO SHEIKS!

We Wonder Why
George likes "red flannel?" Some people say that Zeek can sing?

A certain girl said "Pinkie" Cassidy was good looking?
They call Mat "Peppy?"
Gene is said to be "bow-legged?"
They accuse one of the grads. of being love-sick?

They call Brooks "I-LOVE-ME?"
"Zeek" wore a "black collar" last summer?
Mid-night is on a hunger strike?

It is said that "Tut" is Valentino's rival?
Borck and Eddie Thompson have become so "energetic?"

Things the Grads Would Like to Know.
Will a certain crowd ever get their rings?

Why did G— get his ring back?
Why does Zeek "procrastinate" so much?

Since when is "black ribbon" the sign of jealousy?
Why the convent girls call "Big Boy Welsh" the handsomest boy in uniform?

Where did "Meat-Ball" get all that hair?
When did Gene find "The Lost World?"

Will the "Weeping Virgins" ever be pacified?

We Wish To Announce That
Eddie and Bananas are still arguing.

Fatty has a new name, pronounced "Sow-ow-kee."
No member of Class '24 has willingly parted with his ring.

(Another sign of DEATH.) The class pins are not to give away!
Binek Young as yet has not awakened.

Koch has taken up basketball with the hope of gaining weight.
"Peppy" ran two blocks in order to become a "Sheik."

Common Questions.
How much does Hatchet pay for "lip-stick?"

Why was a certain grad. chopping wood last Friday? (Apply Walter Get.)
Did "Chirp" finally fix things up concerning his ring and pin?

How come Alex allowed Willie to "beat him out" of a pin?
How long will Roland keep his pin?
Since when has Gene become an artist in the science of "Tripping?"

Has Dell found his voice yet?
Did Alden survive the attack of the Skunk?
Has Willie wound down yet?

Who is the biggest "Sheik" in the College?

The Philosopher.
Laporte—Man! is not a worm!
The Inquisitive One—How so?
Laporte—He crawled around until some chicken poked him up.

Funny.
(Note: If you do not want to laugh, do not read these.)
Hatchet—I have never seen such dreamy eyes as yours. Red Line—Perhaps you've never stayed so late before.
George—Last night I dreamt I was married to the most beautiful girl in the world. (Guss who?)

—Oh! George, were we happy?
Gee—How much do you weigh?
Her—125.
Gee—With or without your complexion?
—Especially! What's Zeek sitting on the ball for? Dinkadison! Sh! Little girl. He's hatching a touchdown!

—Is your girl right-handed or left-handed? Koch—Neither. She's second-handed.

Fanny—Roland, what are you doing with that mustache? Roland—Dat ain't no mustache. Mah gal uses lip-stick!

G. Baron—Gosh! I feel like a million rubles. A Fair One—How's that? Hoot—Thirty cents.

The Female—Could you go over their dam without hurting yourself? Papa Kersien—I'd no, why? The Female—Fish do.

Blenk—My brother lays out forty men in one week! Haik—Whew! some fighter! Blenk—Naw; he's an undertaker!

Fatty—Tut, taste this stuff, will yer? Tut—Wow, what a kick! Tastes like "white lightning." Fatty—Thash what I told the drugist. He thaid it was wood-alcohol. Thaste it again, and make sure.

Eddie (at a dance in Lafayette)—Zeek, this is the hostess. Zeek—Oh! is that her name?
Angie—See that girl over there? She's the one who winked at us from the stage last night. Borck—Aw, I ain't so sure that she is. Angus—Figures don't lie.

Cassidy—You know this is a funny world. Sprague—How's zat? Cassidy—When two trains come together they call it a collision. When two kids come together they call it twine.

Willie—I just saw a horse with a wooden leg. Silva—Where? Willie—On a merry-go-round.

Lanasa—I drew my picture just now. Aldridge—That's odd. I thought you said you never made an ass of yourself!

Bro (in history class)—There's a town in Massachusetts named after you, Crefasi. Crefasi (proudly)—Yes, what's its name? Bro—Marblehead.

Fanny—On my trip to Europe last summer we ran into a fog. Zeek—Were very many people hurt?
Renshaw—Why does Uppano wear those loud stockings? Vargos—So that his feet won't go to sleep.

Renshaw—I'm not what I used to be. Dell—No? Renshaw—I used to be a child.

Charlie—I hate food. Matt—Why? Charlie—I spolls my appetite. (None of Your Business)—Why has your class pin got moons in it, Doc? Doc—That's to remind everyone that not all of the fun comes in the daytime.

Le Grand Prix!!!
Oh! girls, look! The great contest is n. Get your powder and paint, for you will have to look your best, and, even then it will be hard to come up to requirements. Just imagine, a handsome prize will be awarded the girl possessing the most homely face! Of course, it will be an extremely difficult task to find a homely face in Bay St. Louis, but we sincerely hope a "town-girl" will be the lucky one. Convent girls are not excluded, but I hardly think they have a chance, for girls resembling Venus do not possess homely faces. Now, I know you are all dying to know what the prize is; but I am afraid I will have to keep you in suspense until next week's issue.

Those wishing to enter will kindly mail their photos to the Editor of College Notes. Convent girls, since they live so close, may be allowed to bring their own.

Special Notice! (True Cause of the Mourning!)

We always thought, but happily I must say, never knew that certain females were so foolish or must say out of their heads? Instead of with tears we all greeted that notice in The Echo last week with smiles, but soon our smiles were turned to feelings of sympathy, for it then dawned to us that our surmises of those (12) o'clock were true. Now you know, dear friends, by nature most giggling school girls are to a certain extent mentally unbalanced, but the situation here is indeed grave.

We are exceedingly sorry for their teasing us, for we realize fully that they have to do with. However, I could go on eternally writing of those poor long-lost, forsaken girls, but I will be content with giving you the substance of our latest solemn declaration:

Resolved: "That if it is in our power to do so we will gladly have the Bay Jewels, the true Mrs. J. Mann's, if preferred, to duplicate our rings. Of course, you wouldn't expect anything much for two-bits a hundred, but if that will pacify those teasing females we will gladly see that their fingers will be adorned with the envied rings and will happily part with the necessary dough."

Basketball.
Prospects Bright.

The pigskin is laid away and all eyes are turned to the basketball season. The prospects for the coming season are exceedingly bright. Everyone looks forward to a great record despite the fact that we are as usual playing many teams out of our class. Baylor University will be played on December 21, the night before we go home for the Xmas holidays. The only other definite game is on January 21st, against University of Tennessee.

Leagues.
Mr. Commagere has organized leagues out of the forty-some-odd members that responded to his call for candidates. The following are the teams and captains:

First League.

COLUMN DE BULL

Athletic and Other Comment.

By FULLER BULL, of Bay St. Louis.

Flea Flies Flies.
Youth will not be denied, neither can kids be kept closeted.

So on Sunday last, to put a finishing touch to a very fine football season, the House O'Brains trotted out her abbreviated warriors of the gridiron: The Fleas and The Flies, to battle for the junior honors of 1923.

Everybody knows what pesky things fleas and flies are and what trouble they can give a human being; but it isn't everybody that knows how they act when scrapping each other; and all those unfortunate who missed the last football game of the 1923 season, at St. Stanislaus Park, REALLY missed something out of the ordinary, when they let slide the game between the Fleas and Flies.

Future Grid Heroes.
The game was as interesting as any grown-up game you ever saw; the same set faces; determined poise and do-or-die expressions you see in the Big-uns. Hitting the line as tho' meant life and death and the devil catch the hindmost; the steady voice of the quarterback as he calls the signals, the cat-like shift, run and solid interference. Heroes in the making. Men of another day when the grandstands will storm in applause and make the welkin ring with their praises.

St. Stanislaus Wisdom.
That is WHY St. Stanislaus must often go out of her class to get games. Why she is in a class half way between the high school and the university; because she rears her players in the prep manor, and when the day comes and the trained lad is ready to reach out his hand for the coveted letter "S," he is a ROCK-A-CHAW—which, fellow citizens, is the Indian for "Something to respect." Ask the old players of Southwestern, L. S. U., Poplarville, and the others; they'll give you the same answer.

As We Saw It.
From the kick-off it looked as tho' it was destined to be a mid-field scrap with honors even; the Flies received the ball on their twenty-yard line and brought it back for fifteen yards; a couple of line plunges proved futile, an end run got very little, and on the fourth down they punted; the punt was blocked and Blankenship scooped it up and tore down field for the first tally; he kicked the extra point.

Flea Tiptoe Up.
The balance of the first period, (Continued on Page Four.)

memory of the 1923 Rock-a-Chaws will live for a long time in the minds of the loyal rooters: We had a wonderful season, one of which we may justly feel proud.

Following is the record of the season:

St. Stanislaus	6	Pensacola	7
St. Stanislaus	6	Tulane Frosh	6
St. Stanislaus	57	Pascagoula	6
St. Stanislaus	34	Andubon	6
St. Stanislaus	19	Gulf Coast	14
St. Stanislaus	9	Southwestern	13
St. Stanislaus	13	Poplarville	15
St. Stanislaus	16	L. S. U. Frosh	7

Points scored—134. Rivals—57.

Class '24.

Flea Swamp Flies in Annual Clash.
In their second annual clash which took place last Sunday at the College Green the Fleas made the Flies their victims, the score being 26-0. Despite the decisive score, the game was interesting throughout. The Fleas scored one in each period and added a point after the first two scores.

The first touchdown came at the beginning of the first period. Quarterback Grant, of the Flies, attempted to punt the ball out of danger; the kick was blocked by Day and Blankenship picking the loval out of the dirt raced 45 yards for a touchdown. The second score was the result of a brilliant forty-yard run by Joe Blaize.

He circled right end and eluded the whole bunch of Flies, and as he carried the ball over the line for the last score.

The Line-up:
Fleas—Blankenship, L. E.; Day, L. T.; Ladner, L. G.; Choppin, G. B.; Jones, R. G.; N. Merriam, R. T.; Cullata, R. E.; Glover (C.), Q. B. J. Menon, R. H. J. Blaize, H. H. C. Merriam, H. B.

Flies—Girard, L. E.; Vallan, L. T.; J. O'Brien, L. G.; Dumas, C.; Telhiard, R. G.; O'Brien, R. T.; Schiro, R. E.; Grant, Q. B.; Calhoun, R. H.; Toca, L. H.; R. Blaize (C.), F. E.

Summary: Touchdowns, J. Blaize, Blankenship 2, Merriam. Points after touchdown, Blankenship 2. Substitutions: Fleas, Gabri for Day, McDonnell for N. Merriam. Flies, Jones for O'Brien, Referee, Martin (St. Stanislaus). Umpire, Schiro (St. Stanislaus). Head linesman, Jarbert (St. Stanislaus). Timer, Welsh (St. Stanislaus). Time of periods, 12, 12, 12.

Echoes of the Game.
The "Fleas and Flies" wish to thank Mrs. R. L. Genin, Mrs. Bourgeois, of the Peacock Tea Room, and all others who helped to make last Sunday's game a success.

The Flies claim that they would have played a much better game had a bevy of sweet girls been cheering for them, on the side lines.

Capl. "Reggie" Blaize of the Flies says he didn't know that girls liked Fleas.

"Billie" Calhoun may look like a Fly, but some of the Fleas know that he can tackle hard!

The Fleas seem to have the jump on the Flies; last year they won by a score of 18-0 and this year they repeated their feat by a 26-0 score.

There was too much of a Blaize on the Fleas' team.

Don't you think that "Tuge" Glover will be a quarterback when he grows up? It runs in the family.

"Gene" Blankenship felt that he was going to make a couple of touchdowns long before the game started!

Shall He Tramp it Again?

When Uncle Sam tramped the railroad tracks during Federal control, he packed a heavy load, and the wear and tear of the road left him (and the roads, too) considerably tattered and torn.

Under Government operation the railroads were operated at a loss of $1,900,000,000. While some loss was inevitable, the actual figures have proved appalling, and to thoughtful people they should present a warning not to be disregarded.

Despite the aftermath of the Federal control, and in the absence of any conditions which indicate that a similar experience would not result from another trial, there are people who are advocating "Government Ownership" and more drastic legislation regulating the railroads.

As Government property, the railroads would no longer pay the $300,000,000 taxes which they now pay, and they would be pitch-forked into national politics, with all the evils sure to follow and, under the additional legislation proposed, railroad service would deteriorate and utterly fail to meet transportation requirements.

Shall this condition be brought about? Shall Uncle Sam be forced to "tramp the tracks" again?

IN the Tudor Sedan a wholly new Ford body type is offered American motorists.

It is distinguished by a compact, roomy body, two wide doors opening forward, and folding right front seat.

Large windows affording an open view in every direction, make for safer driving and greater motor-ing enjoyment.

At $590, this is the lowest priced Sedan ever placed on the American market.

It is a car of broad appeal and compelling value.

This car can be obtained through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.
